

BEAUTY BRAND &
PACKAGING DESIGN
PORTFOLIO

AASHI

I'm a multidisciplinary designer focused on beauty, skincare, cosmetics and lifestyle brands. My work sits at the intersection of branding and packaging from developing the visual direction of a brand to translating that identity into packaging, campaigns and digital touchpoints.

Having worked closely with brands from concept to execution, I enjoy understanding not just how a product should look, but how the entire brand should feel.

I'm especially interested in creating beauty identities that feel intentional, contemporary and commercially relevant.

MY APPROACH

Research → Concept → Visual Direction → Identity → Packaging → Brand Touchpoints

I LIKE BUILDING SYSTEMS RATHER THAN ISOLATED DESIGNS SO THE LOGO, COLOURS, TYPOGRAPHY, PACKAGING AND CONTENT ALL FEEL LIKE THEY BELONG TO THE SAME BRAND.

01 BRAND IDENTITY & PACKAGING

SIAN

Building a visual world for a contemporary brand.

SIAN was approached as more than a logo project. The goal was to create a cohesive visual identity that could translate across the brand's physical and digital touchpoints.

SIAN - VISUAL DIRECTION

Defining the visual language before bringing the brand to life

PACKAGING IN CONTEXT

The identity was translated into packaging to create a consistent experience between the brand and its physical product

03 GRAPHICS DESIGN

A small design detail with a strong visual personality

Designed a bow-inspired card as a visual brand touchpoint, focusing on composition, typography, proportion and aesthetic consistency.

The design was created to feel delicate, feminine and visually memorable, while keeping the overall layout clean and intentional.
